STATE OFFICER WEBINARS

During the Virtual State Leadership Conference the State Officers prepared informational webinars so below are some statements from fellow FCCLA members about what they gained from it:

Leaving Your Leadership Legacy

Presented by State Vice President, Jesika Kendall and State Treasurer, Sophia Htay

"After watching the webinar I had some time to really reflect on my position in office. The webinar really made me emotional and sad to be leaving especially since I'm a senior going to college. But I realize that I will still leave an impactful legacy and will definitely leave some very helpful tips to the next officer so their legacy can be even more impactful than mine."

- Christina Jones, Region 9 Treasurer

Fast Fashion

Presented by State Secretary, Diane Chen and State Reporter, Kacey Le

"Fast fashion is the inexpensive clothing created at a fast pace to keep up with the latest trends. In the webinar they discussed the low wages and bad condition of those who work for the companies to create these products. They also brought up how it is bad for the environment because the clothes end up in landfills. They talked about ways we could use the clothes that are put in landfills for a better purpose, for example we could donate, we could recycle, and many other ideas. They showed examples of stores that are fast fashion like H&M, and Forever 21. They also gave examples of stores that aren't for example Levi's, and Patagonia. Overall it was about how we can improve our shopping for the benefit of the world."

- Christina Ternes, Region 4's Cordova High Chapter Reporter

Farm to Fork

Presented by State President, Lydon Olivares and State Historian, Deanna Murillo

"From the farm to fork webinar, I learned about the benefits of eating farm to fork besides it being healthier, such as it helps both farmers and restaurant owners financially. I also learned more about the process of producing proteins such as fish and meat locally. This webinar has definitely given me a deeper understanding as to why eating farm to fork is important, and has shown me ways on how I can easily implement it into my own life."

- Taylor Tachibana, Region 5 President
