Valuable Resources Help Build FCCLA Chapters

A resource is something that is ready for use or that may be drawn upon to aid or take care of a need. A resource is a means of accomplishing a task or goal. All of us use some of the resources available, but few of us use all the resources possible. The challenge is to find the resources available and then realize or decide how they can be put to best use. Various publications and resources are available from the state and national offices that can help advisors and members plan, develop and organize successful FCCLA chapters.

For ordering California publications and additional information regarding FCCLA resources, contact the FCCLA State Office at:

FCCLA and Consumer Sciences Education
California Department of Education
